

Jamie Bucci, AIA
Vice President

Jamie Bucci, AIA
SWBR

The AIA Board is comprised of industry professionals of various backgrounds who are all at different points in their personal careers. This is an exciting group of individuals who actively provide information and education to our local industry. I am excited about the opportunity for professional growth, leadership and collaboration that a position on the Board of Directors would provide, as well as enabling me to learn from others in our professional community.

I am currently working as a Project Architect at SWBR. I've worked on several different project types during my 15-year career there, but I'm currently situated in the Education Studio where I'm focused on K-12 and Higher Education work. I find it very rewarding to design buildings and spaces that children and young adults get to experience, inhabit, and interact with. Speaking of children – I have 3 daughters that keep me and my wife busy outside of work. I enjoy spending time with our young family attending everything the girls have going on (soccer, cheer, singing lessons, etc.). I love photography, "Friday night movie nights" and watching football! I also have a knack for crafting up our family Halloween costumes every year!

Michael Short, AIA
Treasurer

Michael Short, AIA
Popli Design Group

I am seeking a second term as Treasurer of AIA Rochester. Prior to serving as Treasurer, I was the Director of Communications in 2013. I received the Emerging Rochester Architect of the Year award in 2013 and have been a Rochester area resident for over 17 years.

I look forward to continuing my engagement with AIA Rochester and supporting our profession. I am motivated to work on continued funding of student scholarships and maintaining low event costs for our members. I will work with the membership, sponsors, and the board to maintain a positive spreadsheet throughout my term.

My goal is to ensure the continued financial success of AIA Rochester and the financial support for continued outreach to our members, students in architecture, and the next generation of architects. I will work with each director in setting an appropriate budget and maintaining that budget throughout each year. Through my career I have had the opportunity to ensure budgets are met and have the communication skills to work with all parties to obtain a positive outcome.

Dustin Welch, AIA
Emerging Professional Director

Dustin Welch, AIA
Passero Associates

I am Dustin Welch, an architect with Passero Associates and an adjunct professor at RIT. This would be my second time acting as the Emerging Professionals Director for AIA Rochester. The past couple of years have been tough for social gatherings, but today we find ourselves in a much better place to rekindle the connectivity that ERA brought to our community. I hope to bring back ERA's monthly happy hours, gallery tours, sketch crawls, mentoring events, professional networking events, seminars on licensure, and much more.

Christian Jankuloski, Associate AIA
Education Director

Christian Jankuloski, Associate AIA
CJS Architects

I feel that the Education Director position closely aligns with my personal and career pursuits, because I hold a strong passion for fostering growth in education from early to professional development. In addition, it provides me with a sense of giving back to the community that I am very fortunate to be a part of. I would feel honored to be in this position as it provides me with the opportunity to grow within the community and help grow the community itself.

I received my BArch degree from Alfred State College in May of 2019. In addition, I grew up within the Rochester community and have always gravitated towards architecture since I can remember. I am an Architectural Designer at CJS. My two passions include playing soccer and architecture. Rochester has always been my home, and the city has become and continues to be a place where community is at its forefront. Architecture can open a variety of avenues, and community is one of the avenues that speaks to me the most. I express a passion for adaptive and innovative design to better the built environment and the users within it, ultimately creating architecture that facilitates positive social impact design.
